students are entering the second year of the program. In 1991, La Salle College held the first event of its kind in the United States, the "La Salle Academic Day," which included an address by President John F. Kennedy. The college has continued to expand its academic offerings and now offers a variety of programs in fields such as business, engineering, and education. The campus is located in a beautiful setting, featuring many gardens and walkways. The La Salle University Museum is also located on campus, offering exhibits and educational programs to the public.